- Missouri State University Agricultural Dual Credit Classes

AP Courses:

- AP Computer Science (online)

Technical and Career Centers:

Hallsville High School students have an opportunity to attend an area career center to enroll in courses related to their career path. The majority of the students attend Moberly Area Technical Center and enroll in 3 credits for the academic year. When the student's program of study is only offered at Columbia Area Career Center or David Hart Technical Center, the district also has the means to send any eligible students to these two locations. Students attending area career and technical centers have an opportunity to earn Industry Recognized Credentials (IRC's) in their technical career field.
